Our social media policy-

Our intent with each communication method is to provide helpful and timely information/reminders throughout our season. We try to adhere to posted schedules; however, the nature of the activity causes us to have to adjust at times. Directors often convey changes directly to our students, and it is students' responsibility to keep their parents up-to-date.

Our Facebook site will accept questions and general comments, but it is not a forum to vent or post negative comments. We will take down hurtful/negative comments if they are posted to our social media sites. If you have specific questions or concerns regarding our procedures, please email those concerns to the band executive board and/or band directors.
